HISTORICAL SUMMARY.

THE early history of the Royal College of Surgeons of England is the history of two Companies, which, existing at first as separate fraternities or guilds, were for a time united into one body corporate, and finally became resolved again into two distinct Corporations. One of these, the Barbers' Company of London, is first definitely mentioned, in the records preserved at the Guildhall, in the year 1308, when Richard le Barber was presented and sworn before the Court of Aldermen as Master and Supervisor of the Barbers' Guild; and from an Ordinance of the City made in the previous year it is evident that the Barbers of London were at that time engaged in the practice of at least some branches of Surgery. The other Company, known as the Fellowship or Guild of Surgeons, is mentioned in the City records in the year 1369, when two Masters were sworn before the Court of Aldermen and given power to report the faults of unskilful Surgeons.

Origin of the College.

The Barbers' Company first mentioned in 1308.

The Surgeons' Guild mentioned in 1369.

Between these two bodies there was for many years a keen rivalry and jealousy. Each tried by turns to attain supremacy of authority and jurisdiction in matters relating to the practice of Surgery. In the year 1376 the Barbers made a complaint to the Mayor and Aldermen against unskilled practitioners in Surgery, and obtained an Ordinance providing that two Masters should be appointed annually to direct and rule the Craft, to inspect instruments, and to see that none should be admitted to the franchise of the City except after attestation of their skill by good examination. Fourteen years later, however, four Masters of the Surgeons' Guild were sworn before the Court of Aldermen, and they were invested with the power of scrutiny among persons practising Surgery and with authority to present defaults. But in the year 1410 the Barbers obtained from the Court of Aldermen confirmation of the privileges granted to them in 1376 with the addition that they should be enjoyed "without the scrutiny of any person or persons of any other craft or trade under any name whatsoever other than the craft or trade of the said Barbers."

Barbers' Company assumes two-fold character.

The Barbers' Company was by this time assuming a twofold character, for it consisted of two classes of members, those who were Barbers simply or practised only the minor branches of Surgery, such as blood-letting and tooth-drawing, and those who exercised the faculty of Surgery. In the year 1415 the Mayor and Aldermen required the Company to furnish them with a list of all the latter class of members, from which they selected two as Masters of those practising Surgery, leaving to the Company itself the election of the Masters of the Barbers. Meanwhile the Guild of Surgeons sought an alliance with the Physicians. About the year 1423, probably through the influence of Thomas Morstede (a Surgeon who accompanied Henry V. to Agincourt and who was afterwards Surgeon to Henry VI.), they obtained an Ordinance from the Court of Aldermen having for its object an association or Commonalty of Physicians and Surgeons. Fortified by the support of the Physicians, the Surgeons once more challenged the surgical privileges of the Barbers, but these were again confirmed by the Mayor and Aldermen in 1424. The scheme for a combination of Physicians and Surgeons fell through, but the Surgeons continued a separate body with Ordinances for the government of their Society. The volume containing these Ordinances, which were made in the year 1435, is still in existence and is now in the possession of the Barbers' Company.

The Barbers incorporated by Edward IV. in 1462.

Freed from opposition, the Barbers' Company continued to grow in importance, and in the year 1462 the right of its members to practise Surgery was definitely established by Letters Patent granted by Edward IV. in the first year of his reign. This Charter, from which the Royal College of Surgeons of England, as recited in the Charter of 1800, dates its constitutional history as a body corporate, was granted to the Freemen of the Mystery of Barbers of the City of London practising Surgery. They were made one Body and Perpetual Community with a Common Seal and with power to hold lands and make Bye-Laws. Provision was made for the annual election of two Masters to rule the Community, to have the scrutiny and government of all persons practising Surgery in London and its suburbs, as well as the supervision of their instruments and medicines, and to have power to inflict punishment upon offenders by fines, imprisonment and other reasonable means. No person was to be allowed to practise Surgery within the City of London and its suburbs unless first approved by the Masters of the Company. The surgical rights of the Barbers' Company were thus firmly established, and, as testimony to the eminence attained by the Surgeons of the Company, it is worthy of note that the Senior Warden of the Company, when the Charter was granted, was William Hobbes, Serjeant-Surgeon to the King—probably the first to hold that office.

Alliance between the Barbers' Company and Surgeons' Guild made in 1493.

In the year 1493 the Guild of Surgeons, which had continued as a separate body, entered into an alliance or "Composition" with the Barbers' Company, by which the two Companies agreed each to appoint two Wardens, the four so appointed to act together in all matters relating to Surgery and to the examination and government of its practitioners.

Of the Act 3rd Henry VIII. relating to the Bishop's Licence; 1511.

The Charter granted by Edward IV. to the Barbers' Company was confirmed by Henry VII. and also by Henry VIII., but in 1511 an Act (3 Henry VIII. cap. 11) was passed, constituting a further licensing authority by enacting that no person should practise as a Physician or Surgeon in London, or within seven miles of the same, unless first examined and approved by the Bishop of London, or the Dean of St. Paul's, with the assistance of four Physicians or Surgeons. Two years later, upon the petition of the Guild of Surgeons, another Act (5 Henry VIII. cap. 6) was passed, providing that a limited number of members of the Fellowship (or Guild) of Surgeons, as also of members of the Barbers' Company duly admitted as Surgeons, should be exempt from Constableship and Watch and from bearing arms and serving upon inquests and juries within the City of London.

The two Companies united by Henry VIII. in 1540.

In the year 1540 the two Companies, which had so long been associated by voluntary agreement, were formally united by Act of Parliament, and thus entered upon a new era in their career. The Act (32nd Henry VIII. cap. 42) after reciting that there were two distinct Companies of Surgeons in London, one called the Barbers of London and the other the Surgeons of London, enacted that the two Companies should from thenceforth be united and made one Body Corporate, to be called by the name of the Masters or Governors of the Mystery and Commonalty of the Barbers and Surgeons of London. The United Company was to enjoy all the rights and privileges at any time granted to the two separate Companies. Four Masters or Governors, two to be Surgeons and two to be Barbers, were to be appointed annually; barbers were forbidden to perform any surgical operations, except the drawing of teeth, and surgeons were not to exercise the craft of barbery and shaving. Provision was also made for the study of Anatomy by giving the Company the right to claim four bodies annually of persons executed for felony. Thomas Vicary, Serjeant-Surgeon to Henry VIII. and afterwards to Mary and to Elizabeth, was elected the first Master. The United Company shared the possession of Barbers' Hall, which is known to have occupied its present site in Monkwell Street since 1490 and was probably there even before that. The Hall, subsequently added to by Inigo Jones in 1636, is still standing, having escaped destruction in the Great Fire of London.

The Union thus effected was destined to last for more than two hundred years. At first, however, the privileges conferred on the Surgeons of the Company appear to have excited opposition, for in the 34th and 35th years of Henry VIII. an Act was passed allowing unlicensed persons to treat outward sores and swellings with herbs and ointments.

Of the Act 34th and 35th Henry VIII. regarding treatment of minor ailments by unlicensed persons.

During the reign of Queen Mary, in the year 1555, Regulations were drawn up relating to the examination of persons for the Company's Licence to practise. These Regulations provided for the appointment of thirteen Examiners, including the Master and two Governors. This is the origin of the Court of Examiners of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, although it was not until the time of Charles I. that the appointment of ten Examiners—the number continued to this day—was provided for by Charter.

Origin of Court of Examiners in 1555.

In the year 1605 the Company obtained a Charter from James I. providing that the Governing Body of the Company should consist of four Masters or Governors, two of whom were to be Surgeons, and twenty-six Assistants. The Company was given power to examine Barbers and Surgeons, and to prohibit ignorant persons, or such as wilfully refused to be examined, from practising.

Letters Patent of James I. and provisions thereof, 1605.

In the year 1629 Charles I. granted a further Charter to the Company, providing that ten Freemen of the Company should be elected and constituted Examiners of Surgeons in London. No one was to practise Surgery in London, or within seven miles of it, except Members of the College of Physicians, unless examined and approved by the Examiners of the Company, and every person so approved might practise Surgery anywhere in England. Apprentices were to serve for not less than seven years, to be sound in body and limbs, and to read and understand Latin. The duty was also assigned to the Court of Examiners of examining Surgeons and Surgeons' Assistants for the Royal Navy and Merchant Service and of inspecting their instruments and chests of medicines. This duty they and their successors, the Company of Surgeons and the Royal College of Surgeons, continued to discharge until other arrangements were made at a comparatively recent date.

Surgeons object to their union with the Barbers, 1684.

For many years the union between the two Companies appears to have worked smoothly, but as early as 1684 there were signs that the Surgeons were beginning to find their association with the Barbers irksome and inconvenient. In that year a Petition for the dissolution of the United Company was presented to the King, but the agitation died out, and it was not until many years later that further steps were taken in the matter. The dissatisfaction, however, continued. From the year 1540 the practice of Surgery had been entirely separated from that of barbery, and much progress had been made in surgical skill and knowledge. Under the United Company several of the Surgeons had attained great eminence in their profession, and among these may be mentioned Richard Ferris, Thomas Gale, the two Clowes', Wiseman, Amyand, Cheselden, Sir Caesar Hawkins, and Percivall Pott. The Surgeons resented the presence of Barbers at their examinations, and objected to the signatures of Barbers appearing upon Surgical Diplomas. In 1744 they informed the Barbers that they intended to petition Parliament for the dissolution of the union. The Barbers protested against this, and both parties presented Petitions to Parliament. The Surgeons prevailed, and in the year 1745 an Act of Parliament was passed dissolving the union and establishing two separate Companies. The Barbers were allowed to retain the whole of the Corporate property, real and personal, with the exception of the Arris Bequest and Gale's Annuity for Anatomy Lectures founded in 1646 and 1655 respectively. These Trusts the Act vested in the Company of Surgeons, and they are now administered by the Royal College of Surgeons.

The union dissolved in 1745.

Act of 18th George II. dissolves union and constitutes Company of Surgeons.

This Act of the 18th George II. dissolving the union of the Barbers and the Surgeons incorporated the Surgeons under the name of the Master, Governors and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London, and constituted a governing body consisting of twenty-one Assistants appointed for life, of whom one was to be Master and two Governors or Wardens elected annually, and of whom ten were to be Examiners appointed for life. JOHN RANBY, Serjeant-Surgeon to George II. (whom he accompanied to the battle of Dettingen in 1743), became the first Master of the Company, and upon taking his seat he presented a handsome silver cup, which is still in the possession of the College. The First Wardens were JOSEPH SANDFORD and WILLIAM CHESELDEN. These appointments were made by the Act, which also specified by name the ten Examiners and sixteen Members of the Court of Assistants. The sixteen thus appointed were directed to meet forthwith, and select from the Freemen of the Company five others to complete the number of the Court. Thereafter, the Court were to meet on the first Thursday in July in each succeeding year for the election of the Master and Governors, and to fill up any vacancies, which from time to time might occur from death or resignation among the Examiners and Assistants. In addition to examining Surgeons for the Navy the Examiners were also required to examine all candidates for the posts of Surgeon or Surgeons' Mate in the Army. The Freemen of the Company were to enjoy the same Surgical privileges as approved Surgeons of the United Company had enjoyed under the Act of Union and Charter of Charles I., and, while in the practice of their profession, were to be exempt from all Parish, Ward, and Leet Offices and from serving upon Juries.

The Examiners and the Court of Assistants.

The Surgeons had to find a new home, and, after holding their first meetings at Stationers' Hall, eventually secured premises in the Old Bailey and there built Surgeons' Hall, entering into occupation in 1751. Here the business of the Company was transacted until 1796, when the Court of Assistants, finding the building in need of substantial repair and their tenure of the premises secured for not more than fifty-five years, determined to dispose of the property and erect a new building upon a freehold site.

Surgeons Hall built.

About this time the Company became involved in difficulties in consequence of a provision in the Act of Incorporation which had unfortunately been framed without due regard to possible eventualities. This provision required that the Master and Governors, or any two of them, with nine or more members of the Court of Assistants, should constitute a Court for the despatch of business. On the 7th July, 1796, a meeting was held at which the Master, Mr. Gunning, presided, but at which no Governor was present, one having died in the previous May and the other being too ill to attend. Consequently it was impossible to obtain a properly constituted quorum. Nevertheless the Court conducted its ordinary business, and among other matters elected Henry Cline to the Court of Assistants. In spite of this technical defect in their constitution, the Court of Assistants continued to transact the business of the Company. They disposed of their property in the Old Bailey and acquired a freehold site in Lincoln's Inn Fields, upon which part of the present building of the Royal College of Surgeons of England now stands. The business of the Company was not suspended. Examinations were held and Diplomas were issued. The Examinations of Surgeons for the Navy and Army were also continued. It became, however, necessary to find some means of removing the legal difficulties which had arisen, and, for this purpose and also with the object of acquiring additional powers and authority, a Bill was introduced into Parliament. The Bill passed through the Commons, but was thrown out in the House of Lords; and after further deliberation it was determined to abandon the Bill and to petition for a Charter from the Crown.

Property in Old Bailey sold and site in Lincoln's Inn Fields acquired.

Endeavour to reconstitute Company by Act of Parliament abandoned, and petition for Charter presented.

Meanwhile Parliament entrusted to the care of the Company the Hunterian Collection purchased for the Nation at a cost of £15,000. The Collection was delivered to the Company under an Order of the Treasury, dated 28th November, 1799, and in March 1800 the Company was re-incorporated and constituted by the name of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, by Charter granted by George III. In the year 1806 Parliament voted a sum of £15,000, and subsequently a further sum of £12,500, in aid of the erection of a building for the display of the Hunterian Collection. A contribution of £21,000 was at the same time made from the funds of the College, and the Museum was opened to visitors in 1813.

Hunterian Collection entrusted to Company in 1799.

The Charter of the 40th George III. definitively severed the connexion of the College with the Corporation of the City of London. Members of the College were not entitled to any franchise belonging to the Freemen of the City, but all other privileges and possessions acquired under former Acts and Charters, and not altered by the Charter then granted, were continued and ratified. The Court of Assistants still consisted of twenty-one Members appointed for life with power to fill up vacancies as they might happen, and from them were chosen the ten Examiners, the Master and two Governors or Wardens being selected from these ten. The two principal Serjeant-Surgeons and the Surgeon-

Members of the late Company incorporated, and all future Members to pass examination.

Court of Examiners to examine all Army and Navy Surgeons and Assistants and Mates.

Titles of Master and Governors changed to President and Vice-Presidents, and Court of Assistants to be called Council.

Charles Hawkins, Serjeant-Surgeon to George III., was appointed the First Master, and William Long and George Chandler became the first Governors. All Members of the old Company of Surgeons, on signifying their acceptance of the Charter, were entitled to become Members of the College, and any person in the future desiring to become a Member was required to pass an examination and obtain "Letters Testimonial of his Qualification to practise the Art and Science of Surgery under the Common Seal of the College." In addition to examining candidates for the Membership, the Court of Examiners were required, as under the former Acts and Charters, to examine all Army and Navy Surgeons, their Assistants and Mates, and to inspect their instruments.

A further Charter, granted by George IV. in 1822, changed the titles Master and Governors to President and Vice-Presidents, and provided that the Court of Assistants should in future be styled the Council of the College.

Name of College changed to Royal College of Surgeons of England and Fellowship instituted in 1843.

Number of Council increased.

No change was, however, made in the constitution of the College until the year 1843, when a new Charter (7th Victoria) was obtained, which changed the name of the College to The Royal College of Surgeons of England, and instituted a new class of Members, who were to be called Fellows, from and by whom the Council were to be elected. The number of the Council was increased to twenty-four, and, while the existing Members of the Council were allowed to continue in office for life, provision was made that three elected Members should retire annually, so that, when no more life-Members were left, it would not be possible for a Member to retain his seat for a longer period than eight years without re-election.

Constitution of Court of Examiners altered.

A great change was also effected by this Charter in the constitution of the Court of Examiners. They were no longer to be necessarily selected from the Council, but any Fellow, whether on the Council or not, was made eligible. The Examiners then in office were to continue for life, but all future Examiners were to hold office only during the pleasure of the Council. The Serjeant-Surgeons and Surgeon-General to the Forces were no longer to have any preference of being admitted Examiners, and the President and Vice-Presidents were not to be chosen exclusively from the Examiners but from all the Members of the Council indifferently, whether Examiners of the College or not.

Provision for election of the first Fellows.

The Charter further provided that the President, Vice-Presidents and Members of the Council should be Fellows, and directed them to elect, within three months from the date of the Charter, not less than 250 and not more than 300 Members of the College to be Fellows. They were also given power to appoint other Members to be Fellows within one year from the date of the Charter. With these exceptions no persons were to be admitted to the Fellowship except by examination, nor until attaining the age of twenty-five years. The first Fellows, 300 in number, were chosen mainly from the Surgeons, Assistant-Surgeons and Lecturers of the Metropolitan and Provincial Hospitals. They were elected under one general Diploma on December 11th, 1843. A further election of 242 Fellows took place on the 26th August, 1844, and these included a considerable number of representatives of the Naval, Military and Indian Forces.

Further provision for the election of Fellows in 1852.

In the year 1852 further extension of the principle of election to the Fellowship without examination was made by a Supplemental Charter (15th Victoria), which enabled the Council to elect Members of fifteen years' standing to the Fellowship, provided they were Members when the Charter of 1843 was enacted. The Council were also empowered to admit annually to the Fellowship, without examination, two Members of the College of twenty years' standing, and authority was given for the ad eundem admission to the Fellowship, under certain conditions, of Fellows by examination of the Dublin and the Edinburgh Colleges of Surgeons, and the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow. This Charter also provided that Members of the Court of Examiners thereafter elected should go out of office at the end of five years, but should be eligible for immediate re-election. Provision was also made for the appointment of a Board of Examiners in Midwifery for testing the fitness of persons to practise Midwifery, and Licences in Midwifery were granted to persons passing the Examinations of the Board until the year 1875, after which the Examinations were discontinued.

Examiners to retire at end of five years.

Licence in Midwifery instituted.

Licence in Dental Surgery instituted in 1859.

In the year 1859 the Licence in Dental Surgery was instituted under the Charter of the 23rd Victoria, which empowered the Council to appoint a Board of Examiners for testing the fitness of persons to practise as Dentists.

Enabling Act of 1875.

In the year 1875 an Act of Parliament was passed to enable the College to associate itself with one or more of the Colleges or Bodies named in Medical Acts for the purpose of conducting joint examinations for qualifications to be registered under the Acts. In pursuance of the provisions of this Act the College subsequently entered into an Agreement with the Royal College of Physicians of London, establishing a Conjoint Examining Board and requiring that all candidates for the Licence of the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Membership of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, commencing professional study after the 1st October, 1884, should pass the Examinations of the Board before becoming entitled to their Diplomas. Thus was constituted the present Examining Board of the two Colleges. The Examination Hall on the Victoria Embankment, where the Examinations of the Board are held, was erected at the joint expense of the two Colleges. The foundation-stone was laid by Queen Victoria on the 24th March 1886, and the Hall was first used for examinations in the year 1887.

Charter of 1888 allows Fellows to record votes at Council Elections by papers sent through Post.

In the year 1888 a Supplemental Charter was obtained, mainly with the objects of enabling the College to hold lands and hereditaments of a greater yearly value than that previously sanctioned, and of allowing Fellows to record their votes at elections to the Council by voting-papers sent through the Post, instead of by personal attendance at the College, as required up to that time.

Honorary Fellowship instituted by Charter in 1899.

The last Charter, obtained by the College in 1899, the 63rd year of Queen Victoria's reign, enables the Council to elect persons, whom they shall deem to be sufficiently distinguished for the purpose, to be Honorary Fellows of the College. These Honorary Fellows, the number of whom must not exceed fifty at any time, are not eligible for the Council or for the Court of Examiners, nor are they entitled to vote at Elections to the Council. Their status is purely honorary and does not confer the right to practise Surgery. At the head of a list of distinguished names the College has the honour to place that of King George V. His Majesty, when Prince of Wales, became an Honorary Fellow of the College, and, after ascending the Throne, signified his pleasure to retain the title.

CHARTERS.

SCOTT.

7th VICTORIA.

14th September, 1843.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting, Whereas the Body Politic and Corporate of The Royal College of Surgeons in London was incorporated or re-established under or by virtue of a certain Charter or Letters Patent, bearing date at Westminster, the twenty-second day of March, in the Fortieth Year of the Reign of King George the Third, or otherwise, as in such Letters Patent mentioned or referred to, and the said College is now regulated and governed by and according to the Provisions of such Charter or Letters Patent, and a certain other or Supplemental Charter, granted by Letters Patent bearing date at Westminster the thirteenth day of February in the Third year of the Reign of King George the Fourth, and also by or according to certain Bye-Laws and Ordinances made by the said College for its regulation and better government.

Recites—That the College was incorporated or re-established by Charter of 40th George III.

Recites—That a supplemental Charter was granted 3rd George IV.

And whereas the Body Politic and Corporate of the said College at present consists of persons created Members of the said College by the said first-mentioned Charter, or constituted such Members by Letters Testimonial, under the Common Seal of the said College, of the respective qualifications of such persons to practise the Art and Science of Surgery. And the Governing Body of the said College consists of a Council of twenty-one of the Members of the College, ten of them being also Examiners of Surgeons for the College, and one of such ten persons being also the President and two of them the Vice-Presidents of the College and the two principal Serjeant-Surgeons to us and to our Heirs and Successors and the Surgeon-General to the Forces, of us, our Heirs and Successors, provided they shall have been chosen Members of the Council, have at present a preference of being admitted Examiners of the said College before all other persons whenever vacancies happen in the Court of Examiners of the College.

Recites—That the College at present consists of Members constituted by Letters Testimonial.

Declares that it is expedient to create a new class of Members, to be called Fellows.

And whereas, in order more effectually to promote and encourage the study and practice of the said art and science of Surgery, It appears to us expedient, that a new class of Members of the said College, to be called Fellows, should be created, and (with the exception of the first Fellows hereinafter named and directed and authorized respectively to be appointed) be required, in order to obtain the Diploma of their Fellowship, to have attained a greater age than is at present necessary in the case of Ordinary Members of the said College, and to have complied with such Rules and Regulations, and passed such Examination as hereinafter mentioned; That the number of the Members of the Council of the said College should be increased, and that all future Members of the Council be chosen from the Fellows of the College and hold their office for a limited period only, instead of for life, and that the right of electing Members of the Council be transferred from the Council (with whom such right now resides) to the Body of such Fellows; That alterations be also made as regards the election and admission and continuance in office of the future Examiners of the College, and that certain further powers and privileges should also be granted to the said College. HUNTERIAN ORATION.

In the year 1813 Dr. Matthew Baillie and Sir Everard Home, Bart., Executors of John Hunter, "being desirous of showing a lasting mark of respect to the memory of the late Mr. John Hunter," gave to the College the sum of £1684 4*s.* 4*d.* Three per cent Consolidated Bank Annuities for the endowment of an annual Oration, to be called the Hunterian Oration, and to be delivered in the Theatre of the College on the 14th of February, the Birthday of John Hunter, by the Master, or one of the Governors for the time being, or such other Member of the Court of Assistants as should be appointed by the Master and Governors or any two of them—such Oration to be expressive of the merits in Comparative Anatomy, Physiology, and Surgery, not only of John Hunter, but also of all such persons, as should be from time to time deceased, whose labours have contributed to the improvement or extension of Surgical Science.

The Endowment was accepted by the College under a Deed of Trust dated the 9th October 1813, containing, amongst others, the following conditions:—That the Fund should be vested in the names of three Members of the Court of Assistants; that £10, part of the interest accruing from the Fund, should be given to the Orator; and that the remainder of the interest should be expended in providing a Dinner, on the day of the delivery of the Oration, for the Members of the Court of Assistants and such other persons as the Master and Governors for the time being should think proper to invite.

In 1853, after consultation with the representatives of the founders of the Trust, it was decided that the Oration should in future be delivered biennially instead of annually.

ARRIS AND GALE LECTURES.

The Arris Lectures were founded in 1646 by Mr. Edward Arris, a Member of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons, of which he became Master in 1651. He was also an Alderman of the City of London in that year. He died on the 28th May 1676. His portrait in one picture with a portrait of Sir Charles Scarborough, who was appointed to deliver the Arris Lectures in 1649, is in the possession of the Barbers' Company.

From the Minute Books of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons it appears that on the 24th March 1646 Mr. Edward Arris paid to the Company a sum of £300 "for the use of the new publique Anatomy." This sum was subsequently repaid to Mr. Arris, and in lieu thereof he settled upon the Company an annuity of £30, which shortly before his death he redeemed by the payment of £510. By the Act of Parliament of the 18th George II (1745) for dissolving the Union between the Barbers and Surgeons this sum of £510 was given and vested in the Company of Surgeons then incorporated, and upon the dissolution of that Company became vested in the College.

In the final settlement of the Trust no conditions appear to have been imposed save an understanding that the Anatomy Lectures of the Company were to be continued. By an Act of Parliament passed in 1540 the Company were entitled to claim four bodies annually of persons executed for felony, and to make use of them for the study of Anatomy. The bodies were dissected, and lectures on the muscles and other subjects were given. The Surgeons of the Company were required to attend these lectures and demonstrations, which were called "Public Anatomies." The intention of Mr. Arris was to assist the Company in this work, and the lecturers appointed under this foundation were at first called "Readers of the Muscular Lecture."

Under the Company of Surgeons the Arris Lectures were from 1753 to 1766 delivered by the Masters of Anatomy, of whom the first to be appointed were Percivall Pott and John Hunter. In 1767 the office of Professor of Anatomy was created, and the Arris Lectures were assigned to him.

The Gale Lectures were founded by Mr. John Gale of Bushey, a Member of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons, who, by his Will, dated 13th August 1655, left to the Company an Annuity of £16, payable out of the rents of certain premises on Snow Hill in the City of London, for one Anatomy Lecture in every year to be called Gale's Anatomy.

This Annuity, together with the Arris Bequest, was by the Act of Parliament of 1745 vested in the Company of Surgeons, and upon the dissolution of that Company became vested in the College. In pursuance of Acts of Parliament passed in the 35th and 44th years of George III for the improvement of Snow Hill, the Rent Charge of £16 per annum was purchased by the City of London for the sum of £432, which sum, in accordance with the directions of those Acts, was invested in the name of the Accountant General of the Court of Chancery, until the same shall again be invested in some Real Estate, and the same was laid out in the purchase of £689 16*s.* 5*d.* Consolidated Bank Annuities, the interest thereof being paid to the College.

The earliest record of a lecture under this Trust is dated 30th June 1698, when it was "ordered that there be an Anatomy Lecture called Gale's Anatomy," and Dr. Havers, well known for his description of the canals in bone, since called Haversian, was appointed the first Reader. The Lecture was afterwards called the Osteology Lecture.

Under the Company of Surgeons the Lecture was at first allotted to the senior Master of Anatomy, and afterwards to the Professor of Anatomy.

At the beginning of the Nineteenth Century, lectures were for a time suspended at the College owing to building operations, but were resumed in 1810. It was then determined that six lectures should be delivered annually under the Arris and Gale Trusts. The lectures were no longer distinguished as "muscular" and "osteological," but were united into one course delivered by a Professor of Anatomy and Surgery. In 1857 the title of the lecturer was altered to Professor of Human Anatomy and Surgery, and in 1868 to Arris and Gale Lecturer. In 1864 the number of lectures was reduced to three. Honorarium for the three lectures, the amount of the dividends received from the Arris Bequest and Gale Annuity—about £29.

ERASMUS WILSON LECTURES.

With the object of promoting the study of the Pathology together with the Anatomy and Physiology, human and comparative, of the Skin and its Appendages, the late Sir Erasmus Wilson gave to the College the sum of £5000 New Three per cent. Consols, under a Deed of Trust, dated the 8th July 1869, to found and endow a Professorship of Dermatology. The Council appointed Sir Erasmus Wilson to the Professorship, and during the period 1870–78 he delivered six lectures annually, and presented to the Museum a large collection of casts and models used in illustration of his lectures.

In 1879 certain alterations in the terms of the Trust were effected with the approval of the Founder, providing that the income derived from the Fund should be devoted to the promotion of original researches by lectures delivered at the College, the number of such lectures not to exceed three in any one year, and to be given by one or more persons to be called Erasmus Wilson Professors of Pathology.

In 1882 further alterations were thought desirable, and under a new Deed of Trust, dated the 13th April 1882, it is now provided that the income of the Fund shall be appropriated in part towards the payment of the salary of a Pathological Curator of the Museum, and in part for the payment of Lectures on the Pathological contents of the Museum to be delivered by the Pathological Curator or some other person appointed for the purpose with the title of Erasmus Wilson Lecturer. Three lectures were delivered annually from 1882 to 1908. In July 1908 it was decided to institute a series of Lectures or Demonstrations on advanced Surgical Pathology, illustrated by specimens in the Museum, and the Erasmus Wilson Lectures now form part of this Series. Six Demonstrations are given annually. Honorarium £30.

The Bradshaw Lecture was founded in memory of her husband by the late Mrs. Sally Hall Bradshaw, widow of Dr. William Wood Bradshaw, M.A.Oxon., D.C.L., LL.D., a Fellow of the College for many years in practice at Reading. She bequeathed to the College by Will, dated 6th September 1875 and proved 26th August 1880, a sum of £1000 Three per Cent. Consols, the income thereof to be expended upon a lecture on Surgery to be called "The Bradshaw Lecture," and to be delivered annually on the 18th August, the anniversary of Dr. Bradshaw's death.

In 1882 an Order of Administration of the Bequest was obtained from the Charity Commissioners, which provided that the Lecture should be delivered on the 18th day of August, or on such other day as might be expressly substituted in each year for that day by the President. TRIENNIAL PRIZE

AND JOHN HUNTER MEDAL.

This Prize was founded by the Court of Assistants in the year 1820, and was first offered for competition in 1822. The honorarium, which is provided from the funds of the College, at first amounted to Thirty Pounds, but in 1840 was increased to Fifty Guineas.

In 1864 a life-size statue of John Hunter by H. Weekes, R.A., was erected in the Museum of the College by public subscription, and with the residue of the subscriptions the Statue Committee founded the John Hunter Medal, which in the year 1867 they entrusted to the College upon the following conditions, viz. :—"That the Medal be awarded to the Author of the Dissertation to which the Collegial Triennial Prize shall from time to time be adjudged on condition that the College, having entrusted to it the custody of the Medal dies for ever and to be used only for the aforesaid purpose, do promise and engage to have such Medal struck at its own proper cost."

The Prize now consists of the John Hunter Medal executed in Gold to the value of Fifty Guineas, or, at the option of the successful Author of the Dissertation, of the said Medal executed in Bronze with an honorarium of Fifty Pounds.

I. Annual Meeting of Fellows and Members.

This Meeting was held on Thursday, the 17th November, 1910, at 3 o'clock P.M.

The Chair was taken by the President, Mr. Henry T. Butlin. Eighteen Fellows, of whom twelve were Members of the Council, and 54 Members attended the Meeting.

The President placed before the Meeting the Report of the Council for the period from the 1st August, 1909, to the 1st August, 1910, and made a statement regarding some of the matters which had come under the consideration of the Council during the year.

The President also stated that 3627 copies of the Report had been circulated to Fellows and Members.

The following Resolution, moved by Mr. Joseph Smith, J.P., and seconded by Mr. S. C. Lawrence, was carried nem. con. :—

> That this twenty-sixth Annual Meeting of Fellows and Members again affirms the desirability of admitting Members to direct representation on the Council, which (as now constituted) does not represent the whole Corporation; and that it does so in order that the constitution of the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England shall be in keeping with modern ideas of true representation.

To the proposer and seconder of this Resolution the following reply was sent by the Council :—

> As the matter referred to in the Resolution was fully considered by the Council during the present year, they are not prepared to reopen the discussion.

II. The Certification of Deaths.

In reference to a letter from the Registrar-General asking the opinion of the College as to "whether a surgeon, in signing a death certificate, should mention the fact of an operation having been performed shortly before death," the following statement of their views was made by the Council :—

(1) The Council are entirely in accord with the view of the Registrar-General that it is his duty to endeavour to secure the best possible certification of deaths; and they are of opinion that in every case in which an operation has been performed medical practitioners should be recommended to mention the operation in their certificates of the cause of death.

(2) The Council are of opinion that, under the "Suggestions for Medical Practitioners" in the printed books of Medical Certificates Forms, a general direction should be inserted to the effect that, in all cases where an operation is known to have been performed which has any reference direct, or only indirect, with the cause of death, the fact should be mentioned in the certificate of death.

(3) The Council are of opinion that ample provision already exists for the protection of the Public as regards Coroners' Inquests, and the Council do not consider that Registrars should be instructed to inform the Coroners of all cases in which an operation is mentioned in a death certificate.

III. Sight-testing for Spectacles.

At the Meeting of the Council in November the President stated that his attention had been called to certain remarks made by the Master of the Spectacle Makers Company in introducing a deputation of the Company to the Chairman of the Education Committee of the London County Council, and submitted the following correspondence showing the steps which he had taken in the matter :—

Letter to Education Committee of L.C.C.

Royal College of Surgeons of England,
London, W.C.
24th October, 1910.

Sir,

The attention of the President of the College has been called to an account in the 'Daily Telegraph' of August 11, 1910, of the reception by you, as Chairman of the Education Committee of the London County Council, of a deputation of Members of the Spectacle Makers Company.

In introducing the deputation the Master of the Company is reported to have said :—

> "Representations were made to the Committee by the Royal College of Physicians and the Royal College of Surgeons, and oral evidence was taken from Ophthalmic Surgeons, scientific experts, and members of the optical trade. The conclusions of the Committee were unequivocally in favour of the claims advanced by Members of the Company on behalf of properly instructed sight-testing opticians."

As it might be inferred from this statement that the Royal College of Surgeons had approached the Spectacle Makers Company in the matter, and was in agreement with the Committee of the Company, I am directed by the President to inform you that the opinion of this College was asked by the Company, and that the opinion expressed by the College was adverse to the proposal that the Company should include the subject of sight-testing in their examination and extend their Diploma by certification of efficiency therein.

I enclose a copy of the reply sent by the Council of the College to the Company.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

S. FORREST COWELL,
Secretary.

CYRIL JACKSON, Esq.,
Chairman, Education Committee,
London County Council,
Victoria Embankment, S.W.

Reply from Education Officer of the L.C.C.

London County Council,
Education Offices,
Victoria Embankment, W.C.
4th November, 1910.

"Health Hints to Parents."

SIR,

With reference to your letter of the 24th ultimo addressed to Mr. Cyril Jackson, Chairman of the Education Committee, I am to state for your information that the Council has reconsidered the question of the inclusion of the under-mentioned paragraph in the circular to parents with regard to the health of children :—

> "Spectacles may be wanted, but should be worn only when prescribed by a doctor. They should never be obtained from an optician or eye specialist unless they have been prescribed by a doctor."

The Council is advised that it is only possible, except at risk of grave error, to test vision by the administration of a drug which opticians are by the terms of their diplomas forbidden to use. The Council is, therefore, of opinion that parents should be advised to consult a doctor in regard to defects of vision in their children. The Council is, however, anxious that no reflection upon opticians should be implied by the issue of the pamphlet in question, and has accordingly decided that the following words be substituted in the pamphlet for those to which exception has been taken :—

> "The children may require spectacles, but these should be worn only when prescribed by a doctor. The children's eyes should never be tested by opticians or eyesight specialists as these do not use the necessary drugs."

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

R. BLAIR,
Education Officer.

IV. Medical Scales for Merchant Ships.

The Scales of Medicines and Medical Stores issued by the Board of Trade for Merchant Ships are being revised, and the revision has been entrusted by the Board to a Committee consisting, as on the occasion of the last revision in 1888, of members of their Medical Staff and representatives of the Royal College of Surgeons, Royal College of Physicians, and Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, with the addition, this time, of a representative of the shipping interests concerned.

Mr. C. T. Dent has been appointed to serve on the Committee as the representative of this College.

V. Royal Commission on University Education in London.

In February 1911 the Royal College of Physicians notified to this College that they were not prepared to take any further steps to promote the scheme for conjoint examinations with the University of London contained in the Report of the Delegates of the two Colleges, dated February 15th, 1910.

In consequence of this withdrawal by the Royal College of Physicians from the scheme prepared by the Delegates of the two Colleges, and approved by the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons on March 10th, 1910, it became necessary to abandon the idea of offering evidence jointly with the Royal College of Physicians to the Royal Commission on University Education in London, and to consider whether any and, if so, what evidence should be offered by the Royal College of Surgeons on its own account.

After several suggestions had been made and considered the following Resolutions were finally adopted:—

> That, as it has been found to be impossible to proceed with the suggestion adopted by this College for combined examinations for Medical Degrees by the Royal Colleges and the University, the Council do not lay any detailed proposals before the Royal Commission, but instruct their Delegates, besides stating their individual views, to point out:—
> 1. The disability under which London Medical Students are placed owing to the difficulty of obtaining Degrees in the Medical Faculty of the University—a difficulty not experienced in other parts of the United Kingdom.

2. The action taken by this College in the past with the object of removing this disability.

3. Its continued willingness to co-operate in any scheme for making the Degrees in the Faculty of Medicine more accessible to London Medical Students.

The Delegates appointed to give evidence on behalf of the College are Sir Henry T. Butlin, Bart., President, Sir Henry Morris, Bart., and Sir Alfred Pearce Gould, K.C.V.O.

VI. Central Midwives Board.

Mr. C. H. Golding-Bird, who has been re-appointed a member of the Central Midwives Board under Section 3 of the Midwives Act, submits the following Report regarding the proceedings of the Board:—

28th February, 1911.

Mr. President and Gentlemen,

I beg herewith to present to you my annual report, for the year Jan.–Dec. 1910, of the work of the Central Midwives Board.

Owing to the death of Dr. Stanley Atkinson referred to in my last report, Dr. G. E. Herman has been elected a member of the Board as the representative of the Incorporated Midwives Institute.

It was with great pleasure in June last that the Board congratulated its chairman Dr.—now Sir Francis—Champneys upon his receipt of the honour of a Baronetcy; and in the resolution passed on this occasion it was stated that it was an honour he so well deserved, "for the dignity, courtesy, and impartiality with which he has presided over the Board's deliberations from its commencement."

During 1910 the Board held eighteen meetings, apart from those of the various Committees. On Dec. 31st there were 31,320 certified women on the Roll: of this number, 2836 were added during the year, viz.:—2,281 by examination, and 555 without examination.

It was in March that the Board was informed by the Privy Council that the period for the admission of women without examination, and at the discretion of the Board, was extended to 30th September, 1910.

On this date, therefore, a special meeting was held to consider the various applications that had been received, and the Board was mainly guided in its selection of candidates by the report, in each case, of the applicant's character and competence from the Local Supervising Authority and of the requirements of the district in which she lived. Of the number above stated who were thus put on the roll, only 40 were trained women, the rest had only such knowledge as they had gained by previous practice. I may add that the Board feels the greatest satisfaction that the time has now finally passed for admitting untrained women on to the roll.

The following are the Results of Examinations during 1910 :—

	Entered.	Passed.	Rejected.	Percentage of failures.
London	1752	1478	274	15·6
Birmingham	160	132	28	17·5
Bristol	200	167	33	16·5
Leeds	74	67	7	9·5
Manchester	385	294	91	23·6
Newcastle	165	143	32	13·3
	2736	2281	455	16·6

The number of Institutions in the Country at which midwives may be trained is now 125 ; the number of recognized teachers is 127, and of approved midwives—i. e., who may train pupils—157.

During the year 88 women have been removed from the roll, at their own request, whilst for various offences 60 have been struck off the roll: in 10 cases sentence has been postponed: 22 have been censured, 10 cautioned, and 1 has been allowed to retire.

In obtaining evidence in penal cases, medical men are often asked to make a statutory declaration, and this has been most willingly and generously acceded to in the past; but feeling that such a duty to the State should not be gratuitously performed, the Board have now sanctioned a fee of one guinea in each case.

Some time ago the Board expressed its opinion that State aid should be granted under certain circumstances to poor districts to enable them to maintain a certificated midwife : and this view it reiterated in 1910 in consequence of a communication from the Local Government Board, in the following resolution :—"It is desirable that the State should subsidize midwives for poor and sparsely populated districts unreached by existing institutions."

In a communication received in November from the Birkenhead Medical Society an alteration was suggested of Sect. 1. (2) of the Midwives Act, to prevent uncertified women holding themselves out as "emergency women" and so practising as midwives without the necessary licence. The Board had long been aware that the proviso in the Act to meet unexpected emergencies, had been from time to time abused; and it replied to the request that had been made to it, "that it would keep the matter in mind with the view of taking action should the opportunity arise for dealing with it."

The Medical Officer of Health for the City of Sheffield drew the Board's attention in May last—and subsequently the President of the General Medical Council did the same—to the fact that midwifery was being practised by unqualified male midwives: and the Board resolved to make representation to the Privy Council as to the desirability of amending the Law so as to prevent the practice of midwifery by unqualified men.

I had certainly hoped that this Annual Report would have recorded the passing of a new Midwives Bill; but this, for many reasons, has not taken place, although two such Bills have been brought forward during the year: and the Board has still to await the alterations in the Bill of 1902 by legislation, which experience has shown to be necessary.

Thus, such an important subject as that of the remuneration of doctors called in by midwives is still unlegislated for; but the Board notes, with satisfaction, that many Boards of Guardians do exercise the powers they already possess of paying fees to medical men summoned in emergency by midwives.

Considerable divergence of opinion exists as to whether the Local Government Board, or the Poor Law Guardians, would be the better body to be responsible for the payment of doctors: nor has the Midwives Board itself yet expressed an opinion unanimously in favour of one view or the other of this question.

The various provisions of the proposed Midwives Bill (No. 2) were duly discussed by the Board; but as, for the time at least, the Bill is dead, and that I may keep this Report within reasonable limits, I will but refer to one other point than that which I have just mentioned.

Clause 11 (1) of the Midwives Bill (No. 2) provides that a certified woman, who has not notified in her district that she intends practising as a midwife; and who, acting in the capacity of nurse to a doctor, at a confinement, and, owing to the accidental absence of the doctor who was to attend the confinement, actually delivers the patient, shall at once, under penalty, inform the Local Supervising Authority of the fact.

Whilst recognizing that this clause is intended to prevent the "covering" by doctors of uncertified women—and such cases have from time to time come to the knowledge of the Board—the Board felt it its duty to point out that "even in cases where both doctor and nurse have been engaged with the utmost bona fides, and the doctor desires to attend the birth himself, the child is not infrequently born unexpectedly soon, before the doctor can be fetched. In such a case the operation of the clause might cause the intervention of the Local Supervising Authority between doctor and patient, and it is feared that the result of this would lead the doctor to decline to attend a case where the nurse engaged was a certified midwife. For this reason the Board fears that the subclause would do more harm than good."

In now closing my Report, I can only express my hope, as on a former occasion, that we may before long have a new Midwives Act to correct the anomalies and make up the deficiencies of the present one.

I have the honour to remain,

Very faithfully yours,

C. H. GOLDING-BIRD.

To the President and Council o the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

VII. National Insurance Bill.

The National Insurance Bill, so far as its provisions concern the Medical Profession, has been considered by a Committee of the Council appointed for the purpose, and at two Special Meetings of the Council.

On June 1st, 1911, the following letter was transmitted to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:—

To the Right Hon.
The Chancellor of the Exchequer.

SIR,

The Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, having taken into consideration the provisions of the National Insurance Bill so far as they concern the Medical Profession, desired us to forward to you the following statement of their views adopted at a Special Meeting held this day:—

The Council of the Royal College of Surgeons recognise that an efficient National Insurance Scheme would prove of great advantage to the Country, and are n sympathy with the stated aim of the proposed Bill, viz. :—to provide for insurance against loss of health, and for the prevention and cure of sickness (and for other purposes). The benefits conferred by this part of the Act (Section 8) essentially demand the judgment and assistance of the Medical Profession, and the Council would earnestly direct your attention to certain matters, which are regarded as of the utmost importance by members of the Medical Profession.

The Council are of opinion :

(i) That the administration of the medical service should not be placed in the hands of the Friendly Societies, Insurance Societies, or other Associations of a similar character.

(ii) That the Medical Profession should be represented by members of the Medical Profession on all committees or bodies in whose hands the administration of the medical service is placed.

(iii) That the persons insured, whether voluntarily or by compulsion, should, as far as practicable, be free in their choice of the Medical Practitioner to attend them.

(iv) That persons whose incomes average more than £100 per annum should not be permitted to receive medical benefit under the Scheme.

(v) That, although it is not yet possible to express an opinion on the remuneration which has been suggested for medical service on account of the uncertainty which still prevails regarding the relative amount to be apportioned to attendance and to materials, no attempt should be made to force upon medical men a service which is not sufficiently well paid to yield a proper remuneration for the labour entailed.

For some years past the length and costliness of the medical curriculum have made it increasingly difficult for persons to enter the Medical Profession. The incomes made by many Practitioners are wholly inadequate to recompense them for all this cost and labour; and any scheme of medical insurance, therefore, which threatens to diminish these small incomes will, in the opinion of the Council, be fraught with serious consequences in the future both to the public and to the Medical Profession.

In communicating these Resolutions, we are directed to say that they are in accordance with the views of the great majority of the Fellows and Members of this College. The Council believe that the members of the Medical Profession have never been more united in feeling than they are in relation to the matters referred to in these Resolutions, and they look forward to making a further communication upon points of importance in connection with hospitals and medical education.

We are, Sir,
Your obedient Servants,
HENRY T. BUTLIN, President.
S. FORREST COWELL, Secretary.

The following reply was sent by the Chancellor of the Exchequer:—

Treasury Chambers,
Whitehall, S.W.,
6th June, 1911.

DEAR SIR,

I am desired by the Chancellor of the Exchequer to thank you for your letter of the 1st instant, and to say that he will be glad to receive the co-operation of the Medical Profession in carrying out his Scheme of National Insurance, and he is happy to note that in the most important respects his own proposals are in accord with those made in the statement set forth in your letter.

Yours faithfully,
JOHN ROWLAND.

S. FORREST COWELL, Esq.,
Secretary,
Royal College of Surgeons of England.

VIII. Regulations of Conjoint Examining Board.

Some alterations have been made in the Regulations for candidates for the Diplomas of M.R.C.S. and L.R.C.P. with a view to securing more thorough instruction in Pathology.

All candidates who pass the Examination in Anatomy and Physiology after the 1st January, 1912, will be required to produce evidence of having attended, at a recognised Medical School, a course of lectures on Pathology during not less than six months (instead of during not less than three months), and of having received "practical instruction in Pathological Histology, including not less than 18 Classes," and "practical instruction in Clinical Pathology and Bacteriology, including not less than 18 Classes."

IX. Regulations for the Fellowship.

For some time past classes for dissections have been held at several of the Medical Schools in the vacation months of April and September, and a modification has now been made in the Regulations for the Fellowship to meet these conditions.

The requirement that the candidate must produce evidence "of having dissected at a recognised Medical School or Schools for a period of not less than eighteen months during the ordinary sessions or terms" has been altered by the omission of the words "during the ordinary sessions or terms" and by the addition of the following note:—"Dissections during the regular vacations will be accepted, provided the certificate shows that they have been performed under the superintendence of an authorised teacher in a Medical School."

X. Regulations for Licence in Dental Surgery.

On the recommendation of the Board of Examiners in Dental Surgery an alteration has been made in the Regulations for the Licence to enable candidates, if they desire, to take separately Mechanical Dentistry and Dental Metallurgy, the two parts of the First Professional Examination.

XI. Diploma in Tropical Medicine.

A Petition, signed by numerous teachers and others interested in the subject of Tropical Medicine, was recently presented to the Privy Council, praying that Diplomas in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene might be made registrable, and suggesting that this might be effected by an amendment of Section 21, Part III. of the Medical Act of 1886, relating to the registration of Diplomas in Sanitary Science.

This Petition was transmitted by the Privy Council to the General Medical Council for consideration, and in reply the Lord President was informed "that the Council is prepared to undertake the duty therein proposed, should Parliament think fit to amend the Medical Act in the sense indicated." At the same time copies of the Petition were sent by the General Medical Council to the Licensing Bodies with a request that any observations thereon might be sent to the Council before their next meeting.

The Royal Colleges have replied that, in their opinion, it is not desirable that the registration should be carried out under the conditions of Section 21 of the Medical Act of 1886, and are taking steps to make their views known to the Privy Council.

In the meantime it has been decided to institute a conjoint Diploma in Tropical Medicine, and regulations have been drawn up and approved by both Colleges.

Examiners have also been appointed, and the first examination will be held in October next.

XII. Restoration to Membership.

Mr. John Papa Nicolas, of Smyrna, who was removed from being a Member of the College in July 1908 in consequence of the offence of canvassing the patients of another medical man, has been restored to the Membership.

XIII. Removal of Members.

During the year the names of two Members, viz. Frederick William Axham, M.R.C.S. 1861, and Maurice Edmund Arnold Wallis, M.R.C.S. 1887, have been erased from the College List.

The names of both Members had previously been erased from the Medical Register by order of the General Medical Council.

Mr. Axham had been adjudged guilty by the General Medical Council of the offence of administering anæsthetics for an unregistered person practising in a department of surgery.

Mr. Wallis was found by the General Medical Council to have associated with an Institute which systematically advertised for the purpose of procuring patients for an unqualified person.

XIV. Jacksonian Prize.

The Jacksonian Prize for the year 1910 has been awarded to Mr. Kenneth Macfarlane Walker, F.R.C.S., of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, for his essay on "Tuberculous Disease of the Urinary Bladder and Male Genital Organs."

The subject for the year 1912 is "The Embryology and Treatment of Cleft-Palate."

XV. Walker Prize.

The Walker Prize of £100 for the period 1906–1910 has been awarded to Ernest Francis Bashford, M.D., General Superintendent and Director of the Laboratory of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund.

The following is the Report of the Committee, upon whose recommendation the Council made the award:—

Report of Walker Prize Committee.

The Committee, appointed by the Council in pursuance of the Declaration of Trust for the Administration of the Walker Prize Fund, have duly taken into consideration the work done in the United Kingdom and elsewhere, either partially or wholly within the five years ending on the 31st December, 1910, in connection with the advancement of the knowledge of the Pathology and Therapeutics of Cancer. In the course of this enquiry the Committee have received valuable advice and assistance from eminent American, French, German, Italian, and British Surgeons and Pathologists regarding the work carried out in their respective countries, and have made careful examination of works and papers on the pathology and treatment of Cancer written in various languages during the last five years.

The Committee unanimously recommend that the Walker Prize of £100 be awarded to Ernest Francis Bashford, M.D., General Superintendent and Director of the Laboratory of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, London.

In making this recommendation the Committee draw attention: (1) to the actual amount of the work carried out during the past five years under Dr. Bashford's direction; (2) to its systematic character; and (3) to its far-reaching extent, in that it has critically tested all the questions relating to the pathogenesis of cancer as they have arisen during this period.

Many important results confirming or materially extending the work of other observers have also been obtained. Among these may particularly be mentioned the following observations upon mouse-cancer:—

> 1906–07. The prophylactic immunization against tumour grafting produced by the injection of normal mouse blood—an effect due to the blood-cells and not to the serum. This result indicated that the immunization, which had already been produced by other investigators by means of tumour-inoculation, was not to be explained by the presence of a virus in the material inoculated.

The prophylactic immunization produced by fœtal mouse-skin, especially against the growth of squamous-celled carcinoma. That this effect could be obtained by emulsion of the entire embryo had already been shown by others, but no analysis of the tissues causing it had been made.

1908. The nature of the immunity reaction. It was shown:

(a) That in the mouse immunized by means of tumour material, or by mouse skin, the tumour cells of the graft die; and that no organising reaction of the stroma of the host is set up.

(b) That the failure of mouse-carcinoma to grow in the rat is due to the production of a cytotoxin in the host.

(c) That a hypersensibility to the growth of ingrafted cancer was induced by the treatment of an animal with tissues belonging to another species; and further, that the same result followed treatment with tissues of animals of the same species, provided a sufficient interval elapsed.

(d) That the milk of an immunized mouse did not protect the sucklings against the inoculation of the tumour with which the mother was immunized, or of other tumours.

1909. The following points have also been established:

(a) That spontaneous tumours, although they can be grafted readily into the same mouse, can only be grafted with difficulty upon mice affected with other spontaneous tumours.

(b) That the methods of prophylactic immunization referred to failed to counteract the growth of spontaneously growing tumours whether of the same or of a different histological kind.

(c) That no prophylactic immunization is brought about by killed cancer cells, or by those mechanically disintegrated.

Lastly may be mentioned the valuable assistance which Dr. Bashford has given to investigators, whether foreign or British, outside the laboratory of which he has charge, by the unreserved manner in which he has placed material at their disposal.

XVI. Cartwright Prize.

The Cartwright Prize of £70 and the Cartwright Bronze Medal for the period 1906–1910 have been awarded to Henry Percy Pickerill, M.D., Ch.B. & B.D.S.Birm., L.D.S. R.C.S. Eng., of the University of Otago, Dunedin, New Zealand, for his essay on "The Prevention of Dental Caries."

The subject for the period 1911–1915 is "Oral sepis as a factor in the causation of general and local diseases."

XVII. Blane Medals.

The Sir Gilbert Blane Medals have been awarded to Fleet-Surgeon George Trevor Collingwood, M.V.O., H.M.S. 'Racer,' 1909, and Fleet-Surgeon Arthur Reginald Bankart, M.V.O., M.B., K.H.P., H.M. Yacht 'Victoria and Albert,' 1909.

XVIII. Hunterian Festival.

The Hunterian Oration was delivered by Mr. Edmund Owen on the 14th February, 1911, the anniversary of John Hunter's birth.

In the evening the usual Banquet was held and was attended by a number of distinguished guests.

XIX. Lectures.

The following Lectures have been delivered during the year:—

Bradshaw Lecture.

Sir Alfred Pearce Gould, K.C.V.O. . . On Cancer.

Arris and Gale Lectures.

Prof. G. Elliot Smith . . . . . Three lectures on the History of Mummification, with an account of the ancient Egyptians and the evidences of disease in their remains.

Hunterian Lectures.

Prof. Arthur Keith ..... Six lectures on the Fossil Remains of Man and their bearing on the origin of Modern British Types.

Prof. F. W. Eldridge-Green .... Two lectures on Colour Vision and Colour Blindness.

XX. Bequest by the late Sir George M. Mackenzie, K.C.M.G.

The following is an extract from the Will of the late Sir George Sutherland Mackenzie, K.C.M.G., C.B., of 53 Cadogan Square, and Tempsford Hall, Bedfordshire, relating to a bequest in which this College is interested jointly with the Royal College of Physicians :—

" On the death of my said two brothers I direct that the investment representing the said sum of Thirty thousand pounds shall up to the value of Thirty thousand pounds free of duty be transferred and paid to the President and Council of the Royal College of Physicians and the Royal College of Surgeons England for the purpose of providing in due form of law one or more of the great Medical Schools in Scotland and / or England Ireland or Wales with the means of assisting students of high intellectual promise who have obtained a registrable medical qualification in Great Britain or Ireland or men or women who having obtained their degrees may be willing to devote their intellectual powers to scientific medical investigation and who whilst following a life of scientific research would thus be provided with means sufficient to render him or her independent of mere ordinary professional income the grant or grants to be made conjointly by the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons and the Council of the Royal College of Physicians of London at such times for such periods and in such sums as may be from time to time determined by the two Colleges the research workers being expected to furnish evidence from time to time that they are pursuing their investigations in a manner satisfactory to the Authorities of the two Colleges and any income not so spent in any year to be added to the principal fund. This endowment I desire to be named after and in grateful remembrance of my best friend the late Sir William Mackinnon Baronet of Balinakill and Loup to whose unvarying kindness and influence upon me in my youth is due the means and the inclination that prompts me to provide this endowment. My hope is that others may from time to time add to such endowment feeling like myself that should the conditions be fulfilled the steady co-operation of trained workers may ensure the settlement of questions admitting of doubt and thus prepare the way for the great discoverer who may be destined to throw the light of genius upon problems which their predecessors had failed to solve."

XXI. Finance.

Income.

The gross Income of the College for the past year amounts to £25,703, an increase of £150 on the gross Income of the previous year.

The Examination and Diploma Fees for the Membership, Fellowship, and Diploma in Public Health remain at nearly the same figure in each case, but there is an increase of £139 in the fees for the Licence in Dental Surgery.

The amount received by this College from the Hire of Rooms at the Examination Hall is £88 less than in the previous year.

The receipt of a full year's rent for No. 38 Lincoln's Inn Fields has caused an increase of £44 in the receipts from House Property owned exclusively by this College.

There is an increase of £73 in the Receipts from Investments. The sale of £6000 Metropolitan Consolidated 3½ per cent. Stock has involved a loss of £197 in annual interest from the General Funds, but there is an increase of £263 in annual interest from the Erasmus Wilson Bequest, a full year's dividends having been received on the additional sums recently acquired under that Bequest.

Expenditure.

The Expenditure in respect of Revenue for the past year amounts to £23,481, a decrease of £251.

There is little variation in the sums disbursed for Examiners'

Fees, the chief difference being an increase of £136 in the Fees for the Membership.

Under General Expenses of Examinations a reduction of £891 will be found in the case of the Membership, due mainly to the absence of any large expenditure for extraordinary purposes by the Conjoint Examining Board.

The General Working Expenses in Lincoln's Inn Fields show an increase of £106, the chief differences occurring under law expenses and furniture and fittings, the expenditure under the former being less and that under the latter more than in the previous year.

The Special Expenses of the Museum are £392 more than in the previous year. There is an increase of £112 for salaries and wages, of £65 for catalogues and reports, of £168 for specimens and appliances, and of £78 for furniture and fittings. There are small decreases under pensions and miscellaneous items.

The Special Expenses of the Library remain at about the same figure.

The Extraordinary Expenditure, though less by £226 than in the the previous year, is again heavy, amounting to £1203. Under this head are included sums of £405 for seven year's premium for fire insurance, of £120 for an epidiascope, and of £193 for the Hunterian Festival. There are also items for certain expenses in connection with the building of the new Examination Hall in Queen Square which the Committee have thought it desirable to write off under current expenditure.

General Remarks.

The balance of Income over Expenditure in respect of Revenue is shown to be £2,221.

During the year £2,500 India 3 per cent. Stock has been sold, producing £2,061, and £3000 has been paid on account of the Examination Hall now being built in Queen Square.

The College is liable for a further sum of £10,822 under the contract for the new building, which is to be completed by February 1912.

This sum, with the exception of £500 to be held back for twelve months after the completion of the building, will be payable during the course of the next Collegiate year, together with a sum of £345 for the Architect's commission.

The College is also liable for £795 under the contract for the alterations to the Librarian's old house, which are to be finished by October next. In addition there will be the Architect's commission on this contract and some expenditure for fittings.

Ten of the new stands for pathological specimens have been supplied and paid for, and the remaining 26 stands, which the Council agreed to purchase, will cost £421.

It will thus be necessary to provide for an expenditure during the ensuing collegiate year of some £13,000 in addition to the ordinary expenditure of the College. Towards this sum £1,900 is carried forward from the accounts of last year, and a sum of about £2,100 may be found available from current income. This would leave a sum of £9,000 to be raised by sale of stock.

XXII. Issue of Diplomas.

The following is a record of the number of Diplomas issued during the period with which this Report deals, viz.:—

Qualification.	Number of Diplomas issued.
Membership	325
Fellowship	59
Licence in Dental Surgery	101

THE MUSEUM.

The Hunterian Collection, which forms the basis, and still a large proportion, of the contents of the present Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, was originally arranged in a building which its Founder, John Hunter, erected for it in 1784, behind his house in Leicester Square.

John Hunter died October 16th, 1793, aged 65. By his will he directed the Museum to be offered in the first instance to the British Government, on such terms as might be considered reasonable, and in case of refusal to be sold in one lot, either to some foreign state, or as his executors might think proper.

In the year 1799 Parliament voted the sum of £15,000 for the Museum, and an offer of it being made to the Corporation of Surgeons, it was accepted on the terms proposed by Government*.

In 1806 the sum of £15,000 was voted by Parliament in aid of the erection of an edifice for the display and arrangement of the Hunterian Collection; a second grant of £12,500 was subsequently voted, and upwards of £21,000 having been supplied from the funds of the College, the building was completed in Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, in which the Museum was opened for the inspection of visitors in the year 1813.

In consequence of the large number of additions, this building became too small for the adequate display and arrangement of its contents; and more space being at the same time required for the rapidly increasing Library, the greater portion of the present building was erected, wholly at the expense of the College, in 1835, at

* The following are the Terms and Conditions on which the Hunterian Collection, purchased by Parliament, was delivered to the late Corporation of Surgeons; which Corporation having become dissolved, the Members thereof were re-incorporated by Charter, dated the 22nd day of March, 1800, under the Title of The Royal College of Surgeons in London:—

1st. The Collection shall be open Four Hours in the Forenoon of two days every week for Inspection and Consultation of the Fellows of the College of Physicians, the Members of the Company of Surgeons and Persons properly introduced by them; a Catalogue of the Preparations, and a proper Person to explain it, being at those times always in the Room.

† 2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twenty-four in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by the preparations, shall be given every year by some Member of the Company.

3rd. That the Preparations shall be kept in a state of Preservation, and the Collection in as perfect a state as possible, at the Expense of the Corporation of Surgeons, subject to the annual Inspection and Superintendence of the Trustees.

4th. That there shall be a Board of Trustees, to consist of sixteen (increased to seventeen by the Lords of the Treasury in 1856) Members, by virtue of their Public Offices, and of fourteen others, to be appointed, in the first instance, by the Lords of the Treasury, and afterwards to be elected, as Vacancies may happen, by a Majority of the remaining Trustees.

5th. That the Museum shall always be open for the Inspection of all or any of the said Trustees, who are to take care that the Corporation of Surgeons perform their Engagements respecting the said Collection. That a day be appointed for the annual Inspection of the Museum, by the Trustees acting collectively as a Board; and that they are also to have quarterly Meetings, for the transacting of any Business relative to the Museum, and for the filling up of such Vacancies as may happen in the number of the Trustees; and that the Corporation of Surgeons shall engage some person to officiate as Secretary to the Board upon such occasions, and to issue previous Notice to the Members, in which he is to state particularly whether any Vacancies are to be filled up by new Elections.

† This Clause was altered by the Lords of the Treasury in 1894, to the following, viz.:—

2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twelve in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by preparations from the Hunterian Collection and the other contents of the Museum, shall be given every year by Fellows or Members of the College.

a cost of about £40,000, and the Hunterian and Collegiate Collections were rearranged in what are now termed Rooms Nos. III. and IV., which were opened for the inspection of visitors in 1836.

Further enlargement of the building having become necessary by the continued increase of the Collection, the College, in 1847, purchased the extensive premises of Mr. Alderman Copeland, in Portugal Street, for the sum of £16,000, and in 1852 proceeded to the erection of Room No. V., at the expense of £25,000, Parliament granting £15,000 in aid thereof. The rearrangement of the specimens was completed, and the additional portion of the building opened to visitors in 1855. The Collection still continuing to increase and more space having again become necessary, the College in 1888 determined to erect, at a cost of £19,000, two new Museums on the western side of the old structure. These buildings, called Rooms Nos. I. and II., were completed in 1891. Besides giving greater accommodation for the Collection in general they have also provided space for the display of photographs and drawings illustrating Diseases.

The Hunterian Collection was estimated to consist of 13,682 specimens, distributed under the following heads :—

Physiological Department, or Normal Structures.

Physiological preparations in spirit	3745
Osteological preparations	965
Dry do.	617
Zoological do.	1968
Fossils :—
Vertebrate	1215
Invertebrate	2202
Plants	292

Pathological Department, or Abnormal Structures.

Preparations in spirit	1084
Dry preparations (including bones)	625
Calculi and concretions	536
Monsters and Malformations	218
Microscopic preparations	215

Of the additions by which the size and value of the Collection have been so materially increased since it came into the possession of the College, very many have been presented by Fellows and Members of the College, and other persons interested in scientific pursuits. Among the largest contributions from this source have been the Collection, consisting of 847 specimens, presented in 1811 by Sir William Blizard; a valuable series of Pathological specimens presented in 1851 by Sir Stephen L. Hammick; and a Collection, presented in 1905 by Lt.-Colonel Sir Richard Havelock Charles, I.M.S., K.C.V.O., consisting of 248 skulls, and other specimens, representative of many of the Castes and Tribes of India. At the same time the Council of the College have availed themselves of various opportunities as they have occurred to purchase specimens of interest, especially at the dispersion of private anatomical and pathological museums, as that of Sir A. Lever in 1806, of Mr. Joshua Brookes in 1828, of Mr. Heaviside in 1829, Mr. Langstaff in 1835, Mr. South in the same year, Mr. Howship and Mr. Taunton in 1841, Mr. Liston in 1842, Mr. Walker in 1843, and, deserving of especial mention on account of the great number and value of the specimens acquired, those of Sir Astley Cooper in 1843 and Dr. Barnard Davis in 1880.

The Histological Collection, of which the 215 Hunterian specimens (prepared by Hewson) constitute the nucleus, was chiefly formed by the late Professor Quekett, with considerable additions by purchase from Dr. Tweedy J. Todd, Mr. Nasmyth, and Professor Lenhossek. It now contains upwards of 12,000 specimens, all arranged and catalogued so as to be readily available for reference.

In 1909 the Collection of the Odontological Section of the Royal Society of Medicine, consisting of about 5000 specimens, was transferred to the College under a Deed of Trust, and is now arranged with the other odontological specimens belonging to the College in a room specially prepared for its reception under Room II. of the Museum.

The superintendence of the Museum is confided by the Council of the College to a Committee of its Members, which Committee has held four meetings during the past year.

A summary of the progress made in the preservation, arrangement, and augmentation of the Collection will be found in the following Report.

CONSERVATOR'S REPORT.

Extension of the Pathological Collection.

When the last annual Report was issued, Mr. Shattock, assisted by Mr. Cecil Beadles, had made considerable progress in revising and rearranging the specimens which illustrate the General Principles of Pathology. It was then proposed to devote the lower gallery of Room III to the Section of General Pathology. By the end of last year it became apparent that the space devoted to the display of the Pathological Collection was insufficient for its present needs and future growth, and that steps must be taken to provide room for the expansion of this part of the Museum. After careful consideration it was resolved to devote the floor-space of Room III, at present occupied by a miscellaneous series of specimens, to the exhibition of the Section of General Pathology (estimated at 1100-1200 specimens), and thus set the lower gallery of that room free for the growing sections of Special Pathology. The floor-space of Room III presents accommodation for displaying the specimens illustrating the General Principles of Pathology to great advantage—an advantage which may be realized in Rooms I and II where the floor space is occupied by the Series of Human Anatomy. The Section of General Pathology, from the number and quality of its specimens, deserves the best space and the best setting that can be given it, for no other Museum can show such a Collection. The Series includes many of Hunter's most valued preparations. Having resolved to extend the space for Pathology in this manner, the most suitable form of case or stand for specimens had to be determined. Ultimately a model prepared by Messrs. Fred. Sage & Co. Ltd. was chosen a stand with open shelves of plate glass, supported on uprights of gun metal, measuring 5 ft. long, 4 ft. 9 in. high, and 1 ft. 6 in wide, with a foot plate of mahogany By adopting a small case as a unit, it will be possible to group and arrange the stands according to the number of preparations which have to be displayed in each section. The number required will be thirty-six and the total cost £574. The scheme was sanctioned by the Council in March of the present year. The first case was delivered in May and others will be supplied as required. It is not possible to give an exact estimate of time required to carry out the rearrangement of the Section of General Pathology, but at least a year will be required. A detailed account of the progress made in the revision of the Pathological Collection will be found at the end of this Report.

Extension of the Museum.

With the adoption of the scheme just described it became necessary to provide accommodation for the various collections which occupy the floor-space of Room III. These are now shown in twelve large floor-cases. The most extensive of these collections is that which shows the structure and classification of Invertebrate Animals living and extinct. Another illustrates the development and growth of the human skeleton. A third contains preparations of the skeletons of fishes. The Nubian Pathological Series and specimens belonging to the Section of Pathology of Bones are also shown in two of the floor-cases. By rearranging the Tables in the floor-space of Room I, it was possible to provide accommodation there for the four cases containing specimens showing the development of the Human Skeleton now in Room III, thus obtaining the double advantage of placing these specimens in their true position in the Museum and obtaining floor-space for the extension of the Pathological Collection. To provide accommodation for the Series of Invertebrata, it was found necessary to carry out alterations in a building at the Eastern end of the Museum, usually known as the Librarian's house but which has been used for the purposes of the Museum for over 30 years. In this building, which is entered from the staircase at the Eastern end of Room V, there are two floors, an upper and lower, each of which is partitioned off into small rooms. The upper are used at present for store and lumber purposes; the lower contain the ever-growing collection of surgical instruments and the stationary collection of vegetable specimens. Plans were prepared by Mr. E. C. Frere for the alteration of the building so as to give an upper room measuring 35′ 6″ × 21′ × 13′ 3 and a lower (38′ 6″ × 21′ × 12′), at a cost of £795. The upper room will provide accommodation for the Invertebrate and Vegetable Collections, while the lower will allow an extension of the space now available for the series of Surgical Instruments (a valuable and instructive collection) and also accommodation for the Medico-Legal Collection which the Council (November 1910) resolved to form. This scheme of alterations was adopted by the Council in March 1911 and will be carried out during the months of July, August, and September of the present year.

Formation of a Medico-Legal Collection.

The need for a central and representative collection of specimens required in medico-legal investigations has been felt by experts in England for many years. Valuable and instructive specimens have been lost in the past for want of a central and public institution to undertake their preservation. The Medico-Legal Society through its President, Sir John Tweedy, and its Secretary, Dr. W. H. Brend, appealed to the Council of the College to institute the formation of a Collection, and promised such donations as are in the power of the Society to present, provided that the collection was made accessible to members of the Society. The Council agreed to the formation of such a collection (July 1910). Space for the nucleus of this collection will be provided by the alterations now in progress at the Eastern end of the Museum. It is to be hoped, however, that those in possession of specimens will present them now, as cases in Room III have been emptied for the reception of donations until the new building is ready. The plan on which the collection is to be arranged is modelled on the excellent Medico-Legal Museum in the University of Edinburgh.

Obstetrical and Gynæcological Section.

Mr. Alban Doran has re-examined and re-described the Obstetrical and Gynæcological Series of the Pathological Collection and is now making a final revision of the text of the new catalogue. Type-written cards are being prepared for the gallery-boxes and hall-cabinets. The series as now arranged contains 560 specimens, all of which have been studied and examined with great care and re-mounted when necessary.

Gift of Deformed Pelves.

The collection of defective and malformed pelves has been greatly enriched by the addition of the specimens (28 in number) formerly in the possession of the Obstetrical Society of London, and presented to the College during the present year by the Royal Society of Medicine. The services of Mr. Doran in obtaining this valuable gift for the Museum deserve acknowledgement. Mr. Doran has been fortunate in obtaining the assistance of Dr. J. Davis Barris, Obstetrical Tutor, St. Bartholomew's Hospital, in carrying out a very complete series of measurements on the pelves. These measurements will be included in the descriptive catalogue. Special mention must also be made of the numerous and valuable additions made to the Gynæcological Series by Dr. F. J. McCann and Mr. J. D. Malcolm.

Injuries and Diseases of the Ear.

Mr. Arthur H. Cheatle was appointed by the Council in July of last year to revise and extend the series of specimens illustrating Diseases and Injuries of the Ear. At the present time this section of the Museum is represented mainly by the Toynbee Collection—one of great historical worth. In specimens illustrating more recent progress in Aural Surgery and Pathology the present collection is inadequate. To remedy this deficiency Mr. Cheatle has generously presented his private collection—a most valuable gift. It is also hoped that Fellows and Members will present such specimens as will make this section of the Museum thoroughly representative of modern knowledge.

Injuries and Diseases of the Eye.

Mr. Stephen Mayou was appointed to revise and re-catalogue the specimens illustrating Injuries and Diseases of the Eye. Mr. Mayou has commenced work, but progress must be slow as the great majority of the specimens now in the collection will require to be replaced. The new specimens are being mounted in specially prepared bottles and preserved in formalin solution—a modification of the method employed by Mr. Priestly Smith. Most of the older specimens were mounted in jelly and have deteriorated in the course of time. A special appeal is to be made to surgeons engaged in ophthalmic work in the hope that an ample supply of material may be available to give a complete representation of the Surgery and Pathology of the Eye and Orbit.

Odontological Collection.

Mr. J. F. Colyer, Honorary Curator of the Odontological Collection, has made good progress in the preparation of a new catalogue. Descriptive cards have been prepared and placed in boxes which are placed conveniently for consultation. Many of the specimens have been re-numbered and re-mounted. Two cabinets were presented by the Royal Society of Medicine to complete the cases needed for exhibition of dental anomalies. Cases of open shelves have been fitted up for the display of wet preparations. Professor J. Symington, F.R.S., presented a complete set of the radiographs prepared by him to show eruption of the teeth at various ages. A special cabinet, with means for illuminating the specimens, has been provided for the radiographic collection. The collection has been freely used by students and dental surgeons for study and research.

Cataloguing.

Considerable progress, if not quite so much as was anticipated, has been made in the application of the card-form of catalogue. Descriptive cards of the preparations of human anatomy have been made and placed in the Hall Cabinets. In the Series of Human Osteology 16 wall-cases have been re-arranged and numbered, and the Barnard Davis specimens, while still retaining distinctive marks, have been redescribed and incorporated with corresponding preparations in the Osteological series so far as concerns Room I. The specimens illustrating the development and growth of the human skeleton have been renumbered and placed in floor-cases in Room I. Series I, II, III of General Pathology have been described and numbered, and are awaiting their stands to be arranged in a permanent position on the floor of Room III. As already mentioned, the recataloguing of the Obstetrical and Gynæcological Series is almost complete. Good progress has been made in recataloguing the Odontological Collection. Mr. Burne has prepared a provisional catalogue (card form) for five sections of the Physiological Series, viz., the latter part of Section J (organs of digestion); Section K (ductless glands); Section L (organs of circulation); Section M (organs of respiration); Section N (sound-producing organs). In connection with the technical work entailed in applying the card form of catalogue, the services of William Finerty deserve fullest acknowledgement.

Preparation of Specimens.

Numerous specimens have been prepared for all departments of the Museum. Those added by Mr. Cecil Beadles to the Pathological Series and by Mr. Burne to the Physiological Series deserve special mention.

Excellent additions to the series illustrating the Mechanism of Mastication have been made by the Prosector, Mr. William Pearson, and to the Anatomy of the Pituitary Gland and of Acromegaly by Mr. H. C. Wilson, Assistant Prosector. Numerous dissections have also been made of Congenital Malformations, of Human Anatomy and Comparative Anatomy.

Donations and Purchases.

Many valuable donations have been made to the Museum during the year. H.M. the King was graciously pleased to present another pheasant illustrating alteration in the secondary sexual characters of the hen bird. The President presented 43 drawings of "Cases of Cancer and Conditions which may be mistaken for Cancer of the Tongue." Many of these are in water-colours and have been prepared by a skilled artist, Miss Mabel Green. Professor F. D. Bird of Melbourne gave 32 stereoscopic radiographs illustrating anatomical and surgical aspects of the human body. The collection of microscopical preparations, made by the late Mr. Cresswell Baber during his research on the Comparative Anatomy of the Thyroid, and on which his paper in Part III. of the 'Philosophical Transactions,' 1881, is based, was presented to the College by Mrs. Cresswell Baber. This valuable addition, amounting to 712 preparations, will be placed in the Histology Collection. Further additions to the pathology of tropical diseases have been received from Capt. A. Whitmore, I.M.S., Rangoon, and from Dr. R. D. Keith, Dr. G. A. Finlayson, and Dr. S. M. Livesey of Singapore. The services and generosity of those gentlemen deserve the fullest acknowledgement. Numerous donations have been made to the Ethnological Series. Through Dr. C. G. Seligmann 26 crania were obtained from various parts of New Guinea. Mr. Robert R. Williamson also obtained for the Museum crania from a newly-discovered New Guinean tribe. Mr. P. A. Talbot presented 5 crania of natives of Southern Nigeria—a region at present imperfectly known from an ethnological point of view. Professor A. Watson, of Adelaide University, has presented various specimens which illustrate the anatomical peculiarities of the natives of Australia. The Egypt Exploration Fund and Professor Elliot Smith have presented further specimens which help to fill out the data relating to the physical structure of the Ancient Egyptians. Additions to the Maori and Mallicollo crania have been made by Mr. E. W. Merton Holmes of Sutton, Surrey, and Mr. S. MacIlwaine of Clevedon. Many additions have also been made to the prehistoric British series. Mr. W. M. Newton presented a cranium found by him in the 60-foot gravel terrace of the Thames Valley at Dartford, and presumably one of the oldest skulls found in England. Through Mr. F. G. Parsons a collection of bones excavated from an ancient cemetery near Folkestone and assigned to the Jutes was added to the Museum. The Rev. J. W. Hayes of West Thurrock, Essex, Mr. W Storrs Fox of Bakewell, Derbyshire, Dr. Arthur B. Waddell of Baldock Herts, Mr. J. F. Bennet of West Malling, Kent, Dr. Arnalt Jones, Mr. Frank Corner and Dr. Eric Gardner have also presented valuable additions to the prehistoric English series. Colonel Willoughby Verner has given a further collection of remains of a remarkable prehistoric race found by him in limestone caves in Spain.

As announced in the last annual report, a large and extensive collection of specimens, illustrating the experimental production of Tuberculosis, has been presented by the Royal Commission on Tuberculosis. The description, cataloguing, and arrangement of this collection will take some considerable time, but it is hoped that in the course of the present year these specimens will be available for study by visitors to the Museum. Another gift of importance is that made by the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, which has handed over to the College a complete series of specimens illustrating the artificial cultivation and propagation of Cancer in Mice. These specimens have been mounted, and are at present on exhibition at Munich. Through Dr. Hammond Smith of the 'Field' the Museum has received many illustrations of rare and instructive pathological lesions and developmental anomalies in game. Important donations have also been received from Col. C. E. Shepherd, Mr. Bland-Sutton, the Australian Museum of Sydney, the Imperial College of Science, British Museum (Natural History), Mr. H. Balean, Dr. Blair Bell, Dr. F. Wood-Jones, Mr. C. B. Lockwood, Mr. N. Hill, Professor Wordrop Griffith, Dr. A. Morison, Mr. Rischbieth, Professor A. L. Sheather, Professor Gustav Retzius, Dr. Ivy Mackenzie, Mr. A. R. Tweedie, Dr. Lediard, Dr. Leonard Guthrie, Mr. James Sherren, Mr. Hopewell Smith, Mr. C. P. Childe, Mr. P. I. Watkin, and Mr. S. Smulian.

Skeletons of Bushmen.

Several important additions have been made by purchase. Amongst the most remarkable of these is a series of nine complete skeletons of Bushmen, a dwarf race, rapidly becoming extinct, and of whom our knowledge is imperfect. In one individual the teeth of the upper jaw have ground against the lower jaw so as to completely expose the canal for the inferior dental nerve. This series of skeletons provides, for the first time in this country, an opportunity of making a complete study of the osteology of a dwarf race. A member of the College, Mr. W. M. Borcherds, Uppington, Cape Colony, made it possible for the College to acquire these specimens. Two of the skeletons have been articulated by John Marle.

A case of Acromegaly.

An opportunity also occurred during the year of giving a very full representation of the pathological changes which occur in Acromegaly. The skeleton of the subject of the disease—a male—has been very accurately articulated by John Marle, and is, so far as the Conservator has been able to discover, the only complete specimen in England. The brain with tumour of the pituitary, and specimens illustrating the changes in the muscles, nerves, viscera, skin, tongue, pharynx, face, hands and feet have been preserved, together with microscopic preparations of the more important parts. Brains of several races and a small collection of Ainu crania have also been acquired.

Visitors and Students.

The number of visitors for the year was 13,342, rather more than half coming on Friday and Saturday, when the Museum is open to nurses and lady-visitors. The number for the previous year (1909-10) was somewhat larger, 13,648; in 1908–9 the number was 12,862; in 1907–8, 12,769. Fifty-four women medical students have taken out tickets permitting them to study in the Museum on any week-day. The admission of special classes on Saturday afternoon was continued under the superintendence of the Assistant Conservator, Mr. R. H. Burne. Altogether 78 classes were admitted, 22 being classes of teachers from the London County Schools, 33 ambulance classes brought by their teachers, usually qualified medical men, and 21 classes of students, from Polytechnic, Natural History, and other educational institutions. Tutors connected with the Metropolitan Hospital Medical Schools frequently brought their pupils, as also did lecturers engaged in the training of district nurses. Various learned bodies have also visited the Museum. Amongst these may be mentioned the American Society of Clinical Surgeons, the Association of Physicians of Great Britain and Ireland, the Anatomical and Pathological Sections of the British Medical Association, the Zoological Club of London, Geological Association, Students of the Royal Veterinary College, Medical Students of Oxford University, and the Junior Scientific Society of the London Hospital. The Museum was illuminated on the occasion of the Hunterian Festival. Among distinguished visitors may be noted the President of the Royal Society, Surgeon-General Dr. von Ilberg, Physician to H.M. the German Emperor, and Principal Sir William Turner.

Research work and Publications connected with the Museum.

The Museum has been freely consulted by medical men engaged in research, and also by artists preparing illustrations for medical publications by Members and Fellows of the College. Researches on the Anatomy and Physiology of the Heart have been continued by Dr. Ivy Mackenzie and by Dr. Adele Oppenheimer. Their investigations were made with the view of determining the exact situation, distribution and microscopic structure of the sino-auricular node—a limited area of neuro-muscular tissue, situated at the auricular end of the superior vena cava. The recent investigations of Dr. Thomas Lewis have shown that the normal heart-beat has its inception in the sino-auricular node. Amongst those who have used the material in the Museum for research may be mentioned Professor Cossar Ewart (Researches into the Evolution of Domestic Breeds of Cattle); Professor Boyd Dawkins (the identification of teeth of extinct animals); Professor James Wilson of Dublin (Researches on Telegony). In preparing the Lettsomian Lectures, in which a historical review was given of the various operations which have been employed for the removal of stone from the male bladder, Mr. W. F. Haslam found the collection of surgical instruments in the Museum of the greatest service. He was able to illustrate the evolution and mechanism of the various instruments employed during recent centuries, both at home and abroad. A historical collection of Surgical implements is absolutely necessary for the complete understanding of the history of Surgery.

The Conservator has written descriptive reports on the following collections of crania, which, with few exceptions, have been presented to the College:—(1) Crania from Southern Nigeria, for Mr. P. A.

Talbot; (2) Crania from the bed of the Thames, for Mr. Frank Corner; (3) a Neolithic skull from Swindon, for Mr. Gore; (4) a Neolithic skull from a cave in Derbyshire, for the Rev. E. H. Mullins; (5) Crania from Grays, Essex, assigned to the second century B.C., for the Rev. J. W. Hayes; (6) Neolithic skeleton found in Essex, for Mr. Hazzeldene Warren; (7) a second cranium from the 100-foot terrace at Galley Hill, for Mr. W. H. Steadman; (8) Skeleton of a child from a cave in Derbyshire (early British), for Mr. Storrs Fox; (9) Crania from New Guinea, for R. W. Williamson; (10) Collection of human bones excavated at the stone monument at Coldrun, Kent, for Mr. J. F. Bennett; (11) ancient cranium from the crag near Aldeburgh, Suffolk, for the Corporation of Aldeburgh. The Pathological Curator and Assistant Conservator have also given their services freely to those making investigation at the Museum.

It is impossible to give a complete list of those who have carried out researches in the Museum, but the following list will help to show the value of the Collection to medical men and students of Natural History:—Mr. F. G. Parsons (Osteology of the Anglo-Saxons); Dr. R. G. Gladstone (Studies in Teratology); Dr. F. C. Shrubsall (Studies of the Osteology of South African Races); Dr. Arthur Davies (Sexual characters of the Pelvis); Dr. Douglas E. Derry (Morphology of the Pelvis and Osteology of Negro Races); Dr. Stanley Cole (Racial Anatomy of the Brain); Professor Underwood (Disease in the teeth of Ancient Races); Mr. H. A. T. Fairbank (Sprengel's Shoulder); Professor J. Symington (Eruption of the Teeth); Dr. S. E. Whitnall of Oxford (Anatomy of the Orbit); Dr. Morley Fletcher (Oxycephaly); Dr. Murck Jansen of Leyden (Orthopædics); Mr. N. I. Sprigge of Leicester (Congenital occlusion of the Intestine); Dr. J. M. Taylor (Anatomy of Whales); Dr. H. J. Gauvain (Spinal Curvature); Mr. Wm. Rushton (Abnormal development of the Palate); Miss Reed (Algæ); Miss Smith (Free-Martins).

Publications connected with the Museum.

A Guide to the Museum was prepared last year and was placed on sale in July at the low price of sixpence per copy. So far over 500 copies have been sold and 90 presented. It has been favourably noted by the Press, and appears to serve its purpose as a guide to the Collection. A new edition will be required when the rearrangement of the Collection is carried out.

The chief publications relating to specimens in the Museum which have appeared during the last year are the following:—

The illumination of the Lecture table has been improved and an epidiascope provided for the theatre at a total cost of £130. The epidiascope provides a ready means of demonstrating specimens and drawings to a large audience. To be efficiently shown, preparations must be of suitable size and mounted in such a manner that the surfaces to be shown will be freely and steadily exposed in the mirror of the epidiascope. It is necessary, too, that lecturers should make a preliminary trial of the specimens and illustrations which they propose to show.

Lectures on the Comparative Anatomy of the Vertebrate Ear.

With the consent of the Council the Assistant Conservator, Mr. R. H. Burne, gave three lectures in the theatre of the College on the Comparative Anatomy of the Vertebrate Ear. The lectures constituted part of the Honours Course in Zoology of the London University. Preparations from the Physiological Series were successfully used to illustrate the lectures, which were well attended.

Pathological Collection.

The work referred to in the last Report, of extending and developing the Series of General Pathology, has steadily proceeded, and much of what was then stated can be repeated. Since then, however, the actual work of cataloguing this part of the Collection has been commenced. Of this new Catalogue a fair copy, ready for typing, has been prepared of the Series comprising Hypertrophy, Aplasia, Hypoplasia, Atrophy, Degenerations, and Necrosis.

These specimens have been renumbered and replaced in the Museum. From the typed copy a Card Catalogue will be prepared without delay.

It has been found advisable to modify or rewrite so many of the previous descriptions that the work constitutes a new Edition of the previous Catalogue.

The specimens, as they are finally catalogued, will be displayed upon the stands of glass shelves which are in course of construction. One such stand is already in position, and upon this the whole of the preparations illustrating Hypertrophy have been displayed.

Many of the additions have been collected in order to supply deficiencies in the collection of General Pathology; but a considerable number have been placed in the Gynæcological Series, which has been redescribed by Mr. Alban Doran. For the chief part of these the College is indebted to Dr. F. J. McCann; Mr. J. D. Malcolm has furnished others. As these have been received fresh from operations, and have been prepared so as to retain their natural colours, they are particularly valuable additions to the Gynæcological Series.

It has not been possible to deal as yet with the large collection of specimens presented to the College by the Royal Commission on Tuberculosis.

Certain valuable additions have been made to the Nubian Collection and incorporated in the Catalogue of that Collection. These were presented, like the others, by the Egyptian Survey Department, through Prof. Elliot Smith. Of these, two (an upper and a lower limb from the same mummy) show lesions like those associated with anæsthetic leprosy.

GUIDE.

Illustrated Guide to the Museum. Prepared by Professor Arthur Keith, Conservator of the Museum. 8vo, pp. 132: 1910	0	6

THE LIBRARY.

The Library of the College dates from the year 1800, in July of which year the first grant of a sum not exceeding £50 was made for Library purposes. It had been the intention of the old Corporation of Surgeons to form a Library, but they failed to carry their intention into effect. In its early years the Library was considerably increased by presentations and bequests of books—the principal donors being Dr. Baillie, Sir Everard Home, Sir Charles Blicke, the widow of Mr. Sharp, Sir Ludford Harvey, Dr. Fleming, Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Long. The Court of Assistants also directed from time to time the expenditure of small sums of money for the purchase of books. Sir Charles Blicke, in the year 1816, invested the sum of £300 the proceeds of which were to be devoted to the same object. By these means extensive purchases were from time to time made from the libraries of Mr. Pitt, Mr. St. André, Sir Anthony Carlisle, and others. The progress of the Library, however, for the first twenty-six years of its existence was very slow, but in 1827 great efforts were made to put it in a thoroughly good condition; in that and the two subsequent years the sum of £5269 was spent in the purchase of books, and in 1829 the first Librarian was appointed. The College was practically rebuilt by Sir Charles Barry in 1835–36, and during that period the Library was closed, the books being packed in cases and stored in the Museum Gallery. On the 15th of February, 1837, the Library was re-opened, the rooms in the new building allotted to this department being the Reading-Room and the Librarian's Room. From this date until 1888 very little extra accommodation had been provided for the Library, a small Committee-Room had been fitted up with shelves and room made for a few books under the Theatre.

The munificent gift of Sir Erasmus Wilson enabled the Council in 1888 very materially to increase the Library accommodation, and at the same time to improve and re-decorate the existing building. The residence of the Conservator of the Museum at the east end of the College was pulled down, and the building erected on its site was devoted to Library purposes. On a level with the old Reading-Room an extension was built, the two rooms being connected by four archways, two on the ground and two in the Gallery. Beneath this a handsome Book-Room was provided, and below that a spacious Store-Room. The new building, as at present shelved, gives accommodation for 26,000 volumes. The Librarian's Room was considerably improved by throwing into it a loft above the old ceiling and a passage which led into the Reading-Room.

The whole of the Library premises were re-decorated, and the Electric Light was installed throughout. The heating apparatus, which was under the floor at the south side of the Library, was all removed, and in its place a coil of hot-water pipes was placed in each window. The gallery railing, being in an unsafe condition, was replaced by one of a stronger pattern.

This extension of the Library made it possible to re-arrange the books in such a way as to make them more accessible to readers. In the Gallery of the Extension stand the books on Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology, Medicine and Surgery; round the Reading-Room are ranged sets of the Periodicals and Transactions in greatest demand. There is also a good collection of dictionaries, encyclopædias, systems and general books of reference, conveniently arranged for the use of readers.

The lower room contains books on Chemistry and Physics, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Forensic Medicine, Diseases of Women and Children, History of Medicine and Surgery, Biography and Bibliography. The basement is devoted to old sets of Journals and Transactions, a collection of Theses, and to miscellaneous books.

The Librarian's Room contains the books on Biology, and certain valuable works, including many Early Printed Books, which are kept in glass cases.

The current numbers of the Journals are displayed on tables down the middle of the Reading-Room: four of these are fitted with sliding trays, in which books too large for the wall-cases, and illustrated works still in progress, are kept. The new books are placed on a stand in the centre of the Room; these are catalogued directly they are received, and are at once available for readers. A list of the additions is posted in the Library.

The first Catalogue of the Library was issued in 1831. A classed Catalogue was prepared by Dr. Willis, and was in use in MS. for some years; in 1838 a synopsis of it was printed, and the work itself was published in 1843. In 1853 an index of subjects was issued, and four supplements to the Author Catalogue were published between the years 1840 and 1860. In 1890 a List of Transactions, Periodicals, and Memoirs in the Library was published. A new Catalogue of Authors and Subjects is now being prepared on cards; these are kept in cabinets at the west end of the Reading-Room, and are available for use by the readers. When the work is finished the cards can be used as copy for the printers.

The Library is particularly rich in the Transactions of Societies, and in Periodicals relating not only to Medicine and Surgery, but also to the accessory sciences. The large illustrated works on Zoology, Anatomy, &c., are also well represented. There is a good collection of Portraits of Members of the Medical Profession.

In December 1892 a Common Room for the use of Fellows and Members was opened in the Reading-Room adjoining the Entrance Hall.

A new Store Room for books was fitted up in the basement in 1901, and in 1907 a new room with an annexe was added in proximity to the gallery of the large Library.

During the past year the supply of books and journals has been well kept up, and the work of cataloguing has made good progress.

The Donations to the Library during this period include the following:—His work on "Enlargement of the Prostate," edit. 4, from Mr. Mansell Moullin; "Age Incidence, Sex, and Comparative Frequency in Disease," by James Grant Andrews, "Views of Harbin taken during the Plague Epidemic, December 1910–March 1911," "An Inaugural Address," delivered by Wu Lien Teh, B.C., M.D., at the opening of the International Plague Conference, Mukden, April, 1911, "Archives de Doyen," Nos. 1–3, 1910-1911, and a type-written copy of his Hunterian Oration ("John Hunter and his Museum"), bound in vellum by Zaehnsdorf, from Mr. Edmund Owen; his Bradshaw Lecture, 1910, from Sir Alfred Pearce Gould; Southam's "Regional Surgery," Part I., 1882, from Sir Henry Morris, Bart.; Osborn's "Age of Mammals," 1910, from Sir John Tweedy; his "Account of the Reconstruction of the University of London," Part II., from Sir W. For these specially mentioned donations the thanks of the Council were sent to to the donors.

An interleaved copy of the "List of Periodicals" etc. in the College Library has been brought up to date in MS. by Mr. Fusedale. The volume contains 1633 entries, of which about 300 are continuations, and constitutes a new edition of the "List of Periodicals."

2. The next award of the Prize shall be for the five years ending the 31st December, 1915.

4. The Prize shall be awarded by the Council on the recommendation of a Committee at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in the April following the expiration of the quinquennial period. The Council shall not, however, award the Prize should they not consider any work deserving of it.

5. The Committee shall consist of five Members and shall be appointed by the Council not less than one year prior to the date of the award of the Prize. The Committee shall not of necessity be confined to Members of the Council.

6. The grounds upon which the Prize is awarded shall be made public at the time of the award.

7. The Prize shall be open to foreigners as well as to British subjects, and the Committee shall not be restricted in any way as to the selection of persons qualified to receive the Prize, with the exception that Members of the Council shall not be eligible.

NOTE.—It is not intended that Essays should be submitted in competition for this Prize, or that those who are anxious to obtain it should be called upon to submit their names as Candidates. It is hoped, however, that the knowledge of the reward which may be obtained, and the distinction which it will confer on its recipient, will prove an incentive to those who are occupied in the study of this disease.

John Tomes Prize.

1. The John Tomes Prize shall be awarded triennially.

2. The Prize shall consist of the amount of the interest accruing from the John Tomes Fund during the triennial period (about £29). A document, declaratory of the award, sealed with the College Seal, and signed by the President, shall be presented with the Prize.

5. The Prize shall be awarded by the Council on the recommendation of a Committee at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in the April following the expiration of the triennial period. The Council shall, however, withhold the Prize if, in the opinion of the Committee, no work within the prescribed time be of sufficient merit to justify its award, and in such case shall either invest the dividends to augment the capital of the Fund, or adjudge the Prize to the author of some original research, deserving recognition, in other than dental subjects, which may have been carried out by any person eligible for the Prize.

6. The Committee shall consist of five members, and shall be appointed by the Council not less than one year prior to the date of the award of the Prize. The Committee shall not of necessity be confined to Members of the Council.

7. No essays shall be submitted in competition for the Prize in the case of the next award, which shall be for the period ending the 31st December, 1912; but it shall be open to the Committee to recommend to the Council that essays should be called for before any subsequent award.

Cartwright Prize.

1. The Cartwright Prize will be awarded quinquennially, and the next award will be for the five years ending 31st December, 1915.

2. The Prize consists of a Medal executed in bronze and an honorarium of £70.

3. The subject for the essays to be submitted in competition for the Prize is "Oral sepsis as a factor in the causation of general and local diseases."

4. Candidates for the Prize must be persons engaged in the study or practice of Dental Surgery and possessing qualifications capable of registration under the Medical Acts of the United Kingdom. (A Diploma or Licence in Dental Surgery without a Medical or Surgical Diploma or Degree will not be a sufficient qualification.)

5. The Prize will be awarded to the author of the best essay written in English upon the proposed subject, if such essay is considered of sufficient merit.

6. Every essay must have a motto or device and must be accompanied by a sealed paper containing the name and address of the author, and having on the outside a motto or device corresponding with the motto or device on the essay.

7. Each essay must be addressed to the Secretary of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and delivered at the College not later than 4 o'clock P.M. on the 31st December, 1915.

8. The manuscript Prize essay and every accompanying drawing and preparation will become the property of the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

9. Every unapproved essay which is unclaimed at the expiration of twelve months from the date of its receipt will be returned, with any accompanying drawing and preparation, to the author thereof at the address given in the sealed envelope.

Begley Studentship.

1. The Begley Studentship shall consist of the dividends derived from the Begley Bequest, viz.: £20 per annum, and shall be tenable for three years, subject to the conditions hereinafter mentioned.

2. The Studentship shall be awarded in April 1912, and thereafter triennially, or at such time as any Studentship may become vacant.

3. The Studentship shall be open, on the occasion of the third award, to any Candidate admitted to the Second Examination of the Conjoint Examining Board in England held in April 1912.

4. The Studentship shall be awarded to the Candidate, if any, obtaining the highest number of marks in the Anatomical part of the Examination.

5. If two or more Candidates in the Anatomical part of the Examination shall obtain an equal number of marks, being with respect to the other Candidates the highest number of marks obtained by any Candidate, reference shall be made to the marks obtained by them respectively in the Physiological part of the Examination, and on the combined result the adjudication shall be made; and, if their marks shall still be equal, it shall be open to the two senior Examiners in Anatomy appointed by the Royal College of Surgeons to call upon such Candidates to present themselves for further examination, or to take such other steps as may enable them to adjudicate in the matter.

6. The Examiners shall report their adjudication of the Studentship to the Council at the Meeting of the Council next succeeding the Examination.

7. The Stipend shall be paid yearly, and the Student shall receive the first instalment within three months after the award of the Studentship.

8. The Student shall be required, before payment of the second and third instalments respectively, to send to the Secretary of the Royal College of Surgeons of England a Certificate from the Dean of his Medical School to the effect that his conduct has been satisfactory and that he has been applying himself diligently to his studies, and should any Student fail to comply with this requirement he shall forfeit his Studentship and all future payments in respect thereof.
